Your Electronic Health Record

To optimize the care of his patients, Dr. Elliott's office employs an intelligent online electronic health record (EHR) system thepatientclinic.ca. The philosophy behind thepatientclinic.ca is that you, the patient, secure care & support from various authorized members of your "circle of care" by granting care partners (including your family physician, specialist(s), diabetes center and others) access to portions of your health record. Dr. Elliott is the medical director of thepatientclinic.ca & CEO of its parent company Elliott Meditech Inc.

To ensure the confidentiality of your health record and to comply with privacy legislation, explicit privacy agreements are secured with every participating health care partner and patient. These policies may be viewed in full at thepatientclinic.ca/privacy_policy.pdf.

Your being seen by Dr. Elliott requires that you 1) authorize Dr. Elliott's staff to setup a patient account for you at thepatientclinic.ca & 2) permit Dr. Elliott and his staff to view, edit and update your thepatientclinic.ca health record, to share your health record with health partners he involves in your care and to use non-personally identifying components of your health record for research purposes.

Initial this box to indicate that you accept the two conditions outlined in the paragraph above.

A number of special features have been built into thepatientclinic.ca to empower you as a patient & to maximize the potential for you to benefit from its use. These features are all optional and are listed below. Tick the check box beside each option you wish to include in your thepatientclinic.ca account.

- I would like free online access to my thepatientclinic.ca health record – including lab results within 48 hr of availability, medication list, careplan(s), library of articles, upload your blood glucose meter, keep a journal, and engage in communications with Dr. Elliott & his staff. A valid email address is required for this option.
- I would like to receive automated email (or telephone) reminders for scheduled blood work, and investigations ordered by Dr. Elliott and participating health care providers.
- I would like to receive automated email (or telephone) reminders for appointments with Dr. Elliott, his staff and for participating health care providers.
- I would like to share my prescriptions & medication history with thepatientclinic.ca's pharmacy partner Pharmacy Wellness (BC-based, four convenient locations). Pharmacy staff will make contact regarding my prescriptions and supplies, deliver them free of charge by courier (dispensing fee $8.60 per item) and record this support in my thepatientclinic.ca health record.
- I would like electronic copies of all my diagnostic imaging studies (CT scans, MRI, ultrasound, echocardiograms, coronary angiograms, Xrays etc) sent to thepatientclinic.ca so they are available to all my health care providers.
- I would like to be notified by email (or telephone) of any research opportunity, new medication/therapy or innovation considered by Dr. Elliott or my health care partners to be in my best interests.
